U.N. Force Told to Go With Belgians

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba whose government only Monday dropped its demand for revision of United Nations operations in the Congo, declared today U. N. forces should get out when Belgium's soldiers leave.

"We will assure order with our own troops and police," Lumumba told a hastily called news conference.

VFW Hears Kennedy Urge Arms Step-Up

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy today urged a beefed-up defense program "regardless of what it will cost."

The Massachusetts senator told fellow members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars: "The harsh facts of the matter are that our security and leadership are both slipping away from us—that the balance of world power is slowly shifting to the Soviet-Red Chinese block—and that our own shores are for the first time since 1812 imperiled by chinks in our defensive armor."

Kennedy's forum was the VFW national convention, where Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate appeared two days ago. Nixon told the VFW—he is a member too—that the United States stands first in the world militarily, economically, scientifically and educationally and that "we have the will and determination to maintain that position."

In his own prepared address, Kennedy challenged Nixon's words as "a series of rosy reassurances" and as a "siren call of false contentment."

Kennedy said he was proud to be a member of the VFW when ference. "We don't want to replace the Belgian military occupation with a United Nations occupation."

According to a timetable submitted by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, the last of the Belgian soldiers should be withdrawn by next Monday.

Lumumba called for simultaneous withdrawal of the U. N. forces now totaling 17,000 men.

The statement represents another sharp reversal in Lumumba's position.

It was made in the wake of bitter antigovernment rioting Thursday in front of the modernistic Palace of Culture where, at Lumumba's invitation delegates of 12 African nations were meeting.

There was no immediate comment from the U. N.

The Congolese leader's bid for prestige among his African neighbors was seized upon by his political opponents for a demonstration Thursday that shocked visiting delegates.

Police Quell Riots

Lumumba's steel-helmeted police and soldiers fired shots over mobs shouting "Death to Lumumba," clubbed demonstrators and beat up foreign newsmen and photographers covering the riots.

Tumult raged outside the Palace of Culture, where the conference met, as Lumumba stuck to his prepared keynote address: "Gentlemen, you are making contact with Congolese reality. There is no compromise between liberty and slavery."

Powers Father Says He Doesn't Think Plane Shot Down

N.Y. CITY (AP)—Powers' father said his son doesn't believe he was shot down. The father quoted him as saying "If I were shot down, there would have been a hollow explosion behind me and orange flash around me."

The father, Oliver M. Powers, told a news conference Thursday he does not believe his son's plane was shot down over Soviet territory.

He added that his son "did not say in court or out of court" what brought him down. The father did not elaborate. "He did not land the plane," the father said.

According to the Soviets, a rocket knocked Powers' plane down. Asked whether he thought his son was forced down by Soviet aircraft, the father said, "I won't make any comment on that. We did not discuss it."

The father, a Pound, Va., shoemaker, wept several times during the news conference.

He said he doesn't think anything can be done this year toward getting his son released, and he doesn't have any move in mind. Asked about his son's plans after his release, the father said: "He's coming home."

OAS Splits on U.S. Proposal To Blame Cuba

Small-Nation Group Favors Softer Stand To Name Offenders

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Organization of American States split today over U.S. demands that it pinpoint Cuba in a condemnation of Communist infiltration into the Western Hemisphere.

Delegates from some of the larger Latin American nations to the OAS Foreign Ministers Conference lined up with the United States. A group of smaller members favored a vaguely worded resolution condemning "extracontinental intervention" without naming Fidel Castro's government, the Soviet Union or Red China.

The United States put the issue squarely before the conference Thursday night by introducing a resolution condemning Chinese-Soviet efforts to spread their influence in the hemisphere and calling on Cuba to "repudiate and reject" such moves.

Nations Support

The U.S. position reportedly had support from Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Nicaragua, Guatemala, Uruguay, Paraguay and Colombia.

Eight small nations worked up a mild-toned resolution which they had hoped would be acceptable to the United States and Cuba. It reportedly would "condemn any form of extracontinental intervention, reiterate adherence by the American states to the principles of nonintervention in a nation's internal affairs, affirm continental unity and solidarity, recognize the urgency of preserving democratic institutions and reiterate the obligation of member (OAS) states to submit to the discipline of the inter-American system."

Favor Softer Stand

Those favoring a softer stand were said to include Bolivia, Venezuela, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Ecuador, El Salvador and Honduras.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was expected to press the ministers to take a clear-cut stand in a reply today to the Castro government's latest attack on U.S. policy.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa, in a two-hour speech Thursday, accused the United States of meddling in Cuban affairs and creating tensions in the Caribbean area. He praised the Soviet Union as a protector of small nations and said the United States "is solely to blame for trying to contain Cuba's right to live itself."

Refers to Rockets

Roa made several references to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's offer to support Cuba with rockets if the United States attacks the island. "Would other Latin American countries come to Cuba's aid?" he asked.

Roa wound up with a surprise offer from his government to negotiate its differences with the United States. But U.S. officials viewed this as a propaganda gesture to belaud the issue and said Cuba in the past 18 months has refused U.S. bids to negotiate 17 times.

In a statement issued on the heels of Roa's marathon speech, Herter ignored the offer to negotiate the charges Cuba had rejected the inter-American system and swung her allegiance to the Communist world.

Johnson to Visit Columbiana County

Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, after returning from a trip to Washington, today announced that Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic nominee for vice president will visit the county sometime during the campaign, at a date to be set in the near future.

Senator Johnson was the main speaker for the annual Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner held last May at Beaver Local School.

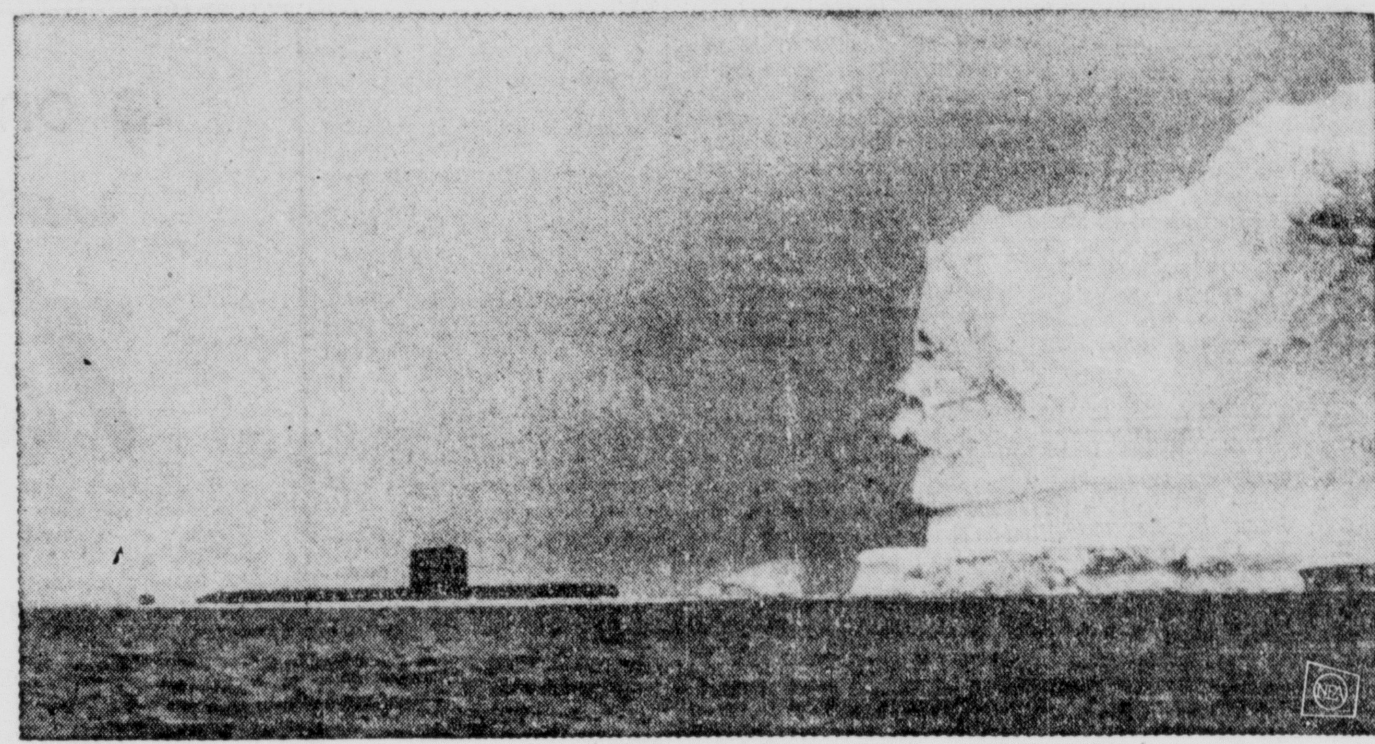

Gosney and Congressman Wayne L. Hays also conferred with Senator Estes Kefauver, who has an invitation to attend the campaign dinner to be held in October, a definite date and place to be announced later.

Meanwhile, Gosney announced the appointment of Donald Longshore and Ronald Zellers of Columbiana as co-chairmen of the First Voters for Kennedy for President committee of Columbiana County.

Congress Views Aid, Medic Bills

Face Wage Measure Before Adjourning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three appropriation bills and a compromise medical care measure were scheduled for probable final approval today as Congress pressed toward adjournment, expected in the middle of next week.

Clearance of the bills for President Eisenhower's action would leave only one major measure—the minimum wage bill — before adjournment.

While some members, anxious to hit the campaign trail, still were hoping for adjournment perhaps Saturday, they weren't optimistic.

Next Tuesday or Wednesday was the target date set by congressional leaders.

Top priorities on today's House schedule was assigned to the health bill, a compromise which limits medical care provisions to needy older persons and makes minor changes in Social Security benefits.

The three appropriations bills, two of them compromises and one an original measure, finance the foreign aid program, the government's vast public works programs, and some miscellaneous agencies.

The foreign aid measure would appropriate $3,722,350,000. It includes a ban against aid to countries that help Fidel Castro's Cuba or the Dominican Republic, unless the President finds that such a ban would damage this country's interests. The money total is $559,354,000 less than the President wanted.

The foreign aid bill, along with the compromise public works measure, was expected to encounter little trouble in either branch.

The new money bill, appropriating less than 100 million dollars for assorted agencies, was so non-controversial that the House gave unanimous consent for its expedited consideration.

They are the last appropriation bills of the present session.

The minimum wage bill was in more difficulty. Senate and House conferees scheduled meetings today and again Monday in an effort to reach a common ground on separate measures passed by the two branches.

10 Persons Hurt In Road Mishaps

Highway Patrolmen Cite 6 Motorists

A rash of accidents on area highways Thursday brought injuries to 10 persons and led to six arrests by Lisbon and Canfield state highway patrolmen.

Five persons were hurt in a two-car crash at 9:10 p.m. at the intersection of Rts. 424 and 267, east of West Point.

Injured were Fred Hopper, 59, East Liverpool, lacerations and contusions of the scalp; Mary Cook, 35, Alliance, abrasions of both legs and right thigh; Anna Hamlin, 60, Alliance, abrasions of both legs; Willard Beatty, 47, Alliance, contusions of the left hand; and Wayne Beatty, 11, Alliance, contusions of the scalp.

All were treated at East Liverpool City Hospital.

The patrol said Hopper was stopped at a stop sign when he was rammed from behind by the car, driven by Willard Beatty, carrying the people from Alliance. The impact knocked Hopper's car into a parked car, belonging to Jimmy Russell, 17, of MC 22, East Liverpool.

Beatty was arrested for failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

Two persons from Beaver Falls, Pa., and one from Youngstown were injured in another two-car accident at 8:30 p.m. at the junction of Rts. 7 and 14, east of Columbiana. Treated at Salem City Hospital were Grant Snowden, 59, Beaver Falls, contusions of the chest and a laceration of the left knee; and Alberta Mention, also of Beaver Falls, contusions of the forehead and right leg.

Evelyn Albright, 50, of Youngstown, was taken to South Side Hospital in Youngstown for observation.

The accident occurred when the car driven by Snowden made a left turn in front of one operated by Charles Albright, 48, of Youngstown. Snowden was cited for making an improper left turn.

Fugitive Caught In Farmhouse Near Dover

Deputy James Miller, Wellsville Officer End Long Manhunt

Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21-year-old Coshocton jailbreaker and robber, was shot in the left hip and captured today in a farmhouse near Sherrodsville by Columbiana County Deputy James Miller and Wellsville Special Patrolman Charles Amato.

The county law enforcement officers, two of a group summoned to aid in the search for the fugitive near Dover, brought Firman to a hospital in Dover, ending a month-long manhunt which crisscrossed central and southern Ohio.

Lt. K. L. Duling, in charge of the State Highway Patrol's Cambridge District, said Firman was the only person hurt in the capture of the fugitive who had vowed he never would be taken alive.

The farmhouse where Firman was caught was only a quarter mile from where he had left his car before daybreak today and fled into a field.

Entered By Back Door

When he entered it by the back door, only Mrs. Ivy Daugherty, about 70, was there. She was sweeping a back walk when Firman approached, carrying a sickle, and ordered her:

"Get back in the house."

While Firman was in the house Mrs. Daugherty's daughter, Mrs. Roberta Wilkins, telephoned, police said. When the old woman said she couldn't talk on the phone, the daughter became alarmed and tipped police.

Within minutes carloads of state highway patrolmen and sheriffs' deputies arrived at the house. Firman was shot as he tried to flee up a stairway, Duling said.

Firman apparently had worked his way through the fields and woods in a big circle during the night to get to the house, which is on Carroll County Road 212 and just four houses from the spot where he wrecked a stolen 1960 Buick earlier today.

Abducted Steubenville Man Just prior to wrecking a stolen car at Sherrodsville, southwest of here, Firman abducted Donald Parker from his home north of Steubenville and forced him at gunpoint to drive to Carrollton, Duling said.

There Firman stole a 1966 Buick from the Ault Buick Co. and abandoned it on Ohio 9 south of Cadiz. But he returned and took the car again, Duling said, and was spotted when he ran a patrol roadblock near Sherrodsville.

Spunky wrecked the car on a lawn and took off barefoot after losing his shoes. The patrolman who was chasing him "fired several shots at him and there is the possibility he might have hit him," Duling reported.

Firman "let out a groan or a moan or a scream, indicating he was hit," Duling said.

Believed To Be Unarmed The lieutenant added that Spunky is now believed to be unarmed after his gun was found near the wrecked auto.

"I think that's the only gun he's got," Duling said.

A patrol plane was en route from Columbus to the Sherrodsville area to aid in the search. The field where Firman was believed trapped was covered over by early morning fog, Duling said, and patrolmen waited for the fog to lift before closing in.

Duling set up temporary headquarters in New Philadelphia, just west of Sherrodsville, to direct the search for the elusive

6 Towns Account for 50 Stamps

Ohio River Cities Pay Most Gambling Taxes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A half dozen Ohio River cities linked by a 50-mile stretch of Ohio Highway 7 have the state's most tax-conscious gambling operators.

Of 137 $50 federal gambling tax stamps purchased through the Internal Revenue Service's 47-county Northern Ohio District office since the new fiscal year deadline on July 1, these six cities account for 50.

Steubenville leads all other cities in the district, with 28 stamps bought, compared with 22 in Toledo, Mingo Junction, practically a suburb of Steubenville, has four more stamp purchasers. There were 10 stamps sold in Martins Ferry, five in Bellaire, two in Bridgeport and one in Wellsville.

By way of contrast, only seven of the stamps were purchased in Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) and two in Summit County (Akron) which have a combined population outnumbering that of the three Ohio River counties by nearly 10-1.

An IRS spokesman said many of the Cleveland gambling operators prefer the risk of being caught to buying the stamps and putting their names on the list for possible harassment by law-enforcing officers.

Stamp purchasers list themselves as "principals" or "agents." Principals own the gambling places and file monthly reports, along with paying a 10 per cent tax on gross business. Agents merely handle wagers for principals.

Following with agents designated are the 1961 stamp purchasers in Steubenville, Mingo and Wellsville:

Labor Chiefs Confer On Political Course

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO called its labor union chiefs together today to decide the 1960 political course of the 14-million member organization. A ringing endorsement of the Democratic ticket is expected.

Recommendations of the 29-member federation Executive Council will be submitted for consideration by the AFL-CIO General Board, comprised of Representatives of all 135 unions, later today.

The union leaders have been generally enthusiastic, although with some exceptions, about Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as Democratic presidential nominee. They have not been so enthusiastic about Kennedy's running mate, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, whom they opposed at the convention in Los Angeles.

Recently, however, Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, and David J. McDonald, United Steel Workers president, made pilgrimages to Kennedy's summer place at Hyannis Port, Mass., and came away completely favoring, they said, the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

United States Wants Freedom

Diplomatic squirming and twisting over Latin America finally makes clear to citizens of the United States what their government's problem is in the fight against Communism in this hemisphere.

The United States has not been able to convince skeptics that its fight against the Communist Conspiracy is necessarily a fight against despotism.

It has not been able to prove by its own record of performance that its opposition is to despotism in any form. It has played too close and too clubby with too many despots whose only saving grace was their claim to be anti-Communist.

It has done with a despotic regime in Spain, another in the Dominican Republic and, until its overthrow by the Castro revolution, the Batista government in Cuba.

It let itself become tarred with the black reputation of Sygman Rhee in the Republic of Korea. It has hesitated and back away from opportunities to assert that its support is first, last and always for freedom, when to do so might have embarrassed a high-handed government professing to be anti-Communist.

THIS HAS BEEN a policy of expediency. The United States has been willing to pick up any old stick to beat the Communist dog. But expediency is not a monopoly in international relations. Those who use it must expect to have it used against them.

Every government has given thought at one time or another to exploiting the relentless anti-Communism of the United States for its own advantage. This has been done even to the point of threatening reprisal. That is the effect of what has been going on in the new Republic of Congo. The United States either must use its resources and influence to help the Lumumba regime get what it wants, or the Lumumba regime will invite in the Soviet Union.

The United States has earned a reputation for being willing to pay for anti-Communism and no questions asked.

Many governments are willing to be publicly as anti-Communist as the United States wants them to be but to say off the record that the anti-Communism of the United States seems to have become a fetish.

They voice the misgiving that they may get caught in a squeeze between the anti-Communism of the United States and the anti-Capitalism of the Soviet Union. They are afraid of both.

They have no special misgivings about the Communist credo, which they think of as just another political ideology. They do not always share the American doctrine that Communism is the all-time bugaboo, the matchless perfidy, the ultimate evil.

TO PEOPLE everywhere, the ultimate evil is despotism—the repression of human freedom. They do not understand it when freedom loving Americans lend moral and financial support to governments that are despotic, cruel and evil, because the governments profess to be anti-Communist.

Americans never have understood it, either, and are tired of the duplicity it represents.

Torch That Lights the Way

One side result of the Olympic Games is as important as the athletic contests and international rivalry.

In the wake of the Olympic torch, some of the world's brightest long-range improvements have materialized. Every locality touched by the Olympians is the better for their brief presence.

It is like the passages of royalty through a nation, when everything must be put in order for the king or the queen. The Olympians

Star-Gazing

Our local astronomers, some of them high school students, deserve a pat on the back for the opportunity they afforded Salem citizens to view celestial bodies and the Echo I satellite Wednesday night.

The boys, who got their first knowledge of astronomy from their physics studies at Salem Senior High School, set up five telescopes at the Buckeye School lawn and 150 persons showed up. Chances are that if a repeat performance is held, more moonwatchers will be attracted.

Star-gazing is recommended for everyone. You can't help but feel spiritually humble on the viewing end of a telescope.

For a Worthy Cause

A number of Salem people are cooperating with the United Commercial Travelers in an attempt to raise much-needed funds to help the Retarded Children's Council, whose commendable work throughout the county is familiar to most of us.

"Wishing Well" buckets for donations will be found on downtown streets beginning today. In addition, a house-to-house canvass will be made Saturday morning by Little League baseball players, who are hoping your donation will help them bat 1000 per cent for a mighty deserving cause.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Nathan Hale of "My only regret is that I have but one life to give for my country," fame wouldn't dig the Francis Powers' routine.

The countless statues of Nathan throughout America seem groggy at the moment. But he and other spies in the Hale tradition might not be too critical of the U2 airman's statements and admissions of sorrow if they knew Soviet devotion to upside-down talk and determination to play the game by none of the accepted rules.

They probably could excuse the airman for a few new twists, too.

When the Russian prosecutor opened his case with an expression of horror that any nation would use a spy anywhere, and saying the Powers' case "unmasked the United States as the organizer of a monstrous crime against peace, whereas the world knew that Russia never stopped to such acts," the U2 pilot could have been rendered, a little dizzy.

When the prosecutor said that Powers' case revealed the American people as "bandits and perfidious conspirators," the airman could have reasonably called for the aspirin with a feeling he was taking a "nine count" in Never Never Land. And "anything goes" attitude could be understood.

Powers was not a spy in the Hale and Major Andre pattern. He was in fact, a "push-button spy" who pressed gadgets which took pictures of which he would never know much. The skipper of a U2 is a guy taking plenty of chances but it's the laboratory experts back at the base who know what he's done.

The Nathan Hales were on their own. Their work was wholly personal. They were in no position to express regrets. And if caught and put on trial, the enemy never threw up its hands and cried: "How can any decent nation use spies? It's revolting!"

There is little disposition to be critical of Airman Powers. Under current conditions it may be too much to expect a man in his shoes to think only of how he will look in history books when facing a Soviet court.

He may have thought, "I'm willing to die for my country but I'm in no hurry to do it in a Moscow burlesque show."

A ST. LOUIS MAN left Harvard $10,000 but the University will not get it until his 10-year-old cat has been provided for during its remaining years. With milk costing what it does today, Harvard shouldn't count on getting much if the cat lasts the year out.

The court has ruled Roquefort Cheese is trademark of a French corporation and cannot legally be used by competitors. We look for a stronger case if there is litigation over limburger.

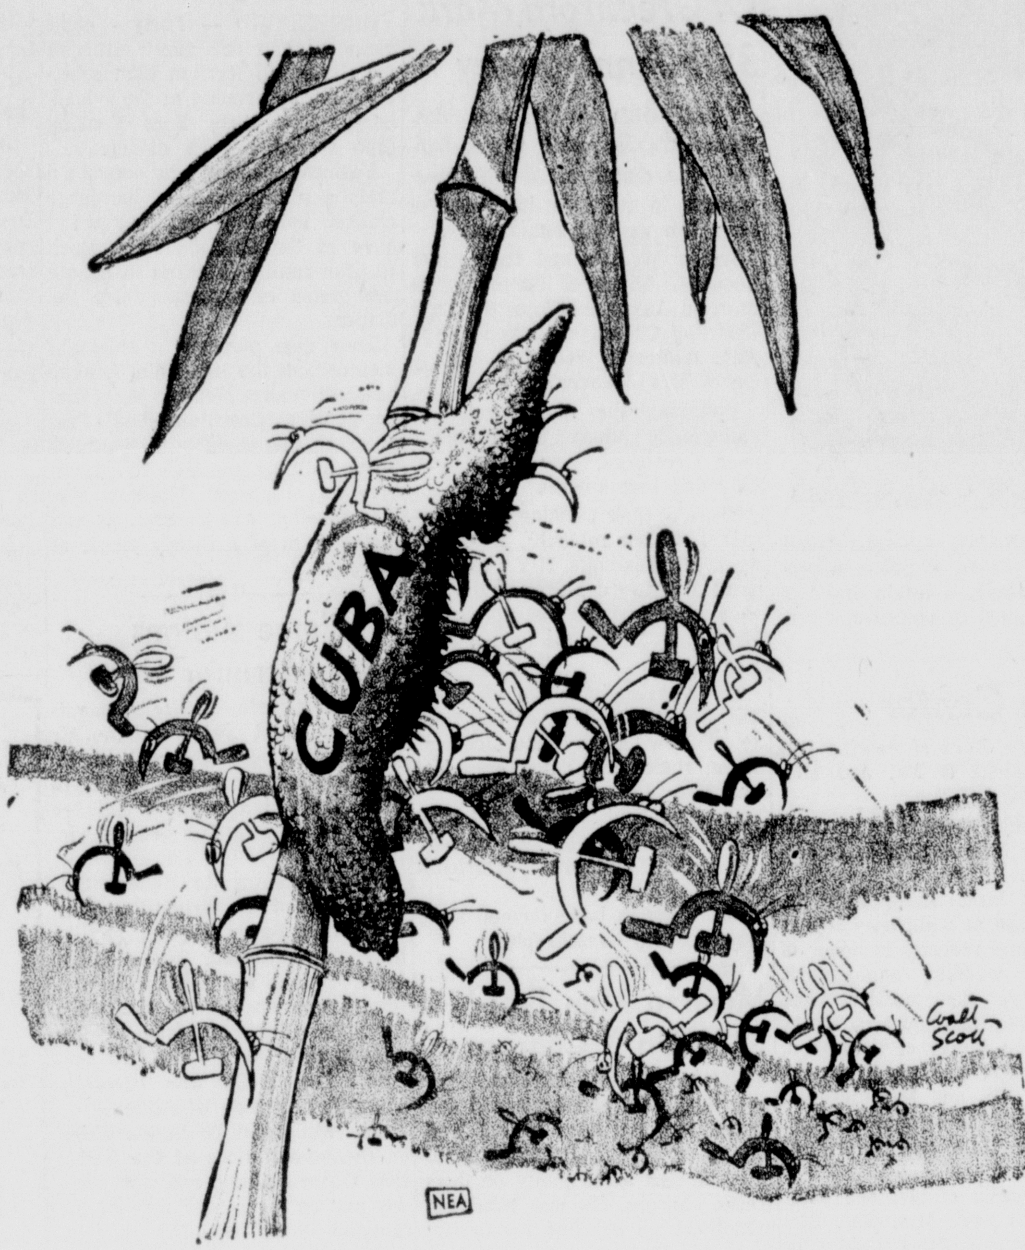

Jet engines have now been built for small pleasure boats. They weigh little more than small outboards. This should be fair warning to all folks who think of going on the water for recreation, quiet and escape from peril.

Gen. George H. Decker, new U.S. Army boss, never went to West Point. He is a Lafayette College man who majored in economics, which goes to show you never can tell.

It's curious how impossible it is to look at Mayor Wagner's facial expression in a scandal opinion and say, "Your indignation is showing."

Castro has seized a U. S. cement plant. Needs it to pave roads with BAD intentions. The Associated Newspapers

Communism's Cocoon

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

It is the opinion of sophisticated, war hardened French counter-intelligence officials that Chairman Khrushchev produced the Francis Powers spy trial to please and placate Mao Tse-tung and the other Chinese Communist theoreticians.

My French friends, who talk neither lightly nor idly the heartbreak house in which the Powers family lives today, made their point by walking me down to the Etoile end of Paris' Champs Elysees.

They showed me something new, the "drug store Americaine" — like Madison Avenue, or Main Street, transported with quick toasted sandwiches, hot dogs, hamburgers and chocolate ice cream sodas.

The French, who everybody said would never leave their sidewalk cafes and bistros, love it. They jam the counter until the early morning hours.

It is the symbol not only of America but of American type capitalism which is being accepted everywhere in Europe.

It is the symbol of the future in Western Europe while the symbols of the past, the Marxist jargon, the Socialist parties, the built-in hate of the "class struggle" are being abandoned everywhere like broken-down Nazi panzers during the retreat of a now ancient war.

THIS UPSWING of capitalist strength and the downgrading of Marxist influence in the West has been blamed on Chairman Khrushchev by the deadliest living Leninist theoretician of them all, Mao Tse-tung.

Whether or not it is true that Khrushchev's co-existence policies are responsible for the European masses' growing affection for our garden variety type capitalism, it is certainly true that Marxism is dying where it is not resting on Soviet bayonets.

Look, for example, at the once most ardent Marxists of them all, the German Socialists. Last September, the German Socialists disowned Socialism. They are now reformers.

Their new literature no longer talks of the "class struggle" or the historic development "of inevitable socialism."

Ten years ago, the German Socialist party said it would be forever dedicated to Marxism and the men who died for it.

Today the new action program has as little use for the class struggle as Karl Marx had for a razor.

Then at a party congress in Bad Godesberg last November, the leaders revised their program for the first time in 24 years.

They dropped their holy of holies and came out for private enterprise as the most effective base for any economic system.

In effect, the thousands of words, said that private management must be counted onto police itself and discipline investment to avoid abuse of concentrated industrial power.

THEN THE GERMANS, Socialist International met in Hamburg last summer, the delegates kept most of the language but few in that congress mentioned nationalization of industry and meant it.

As for the Communists, they have seen the handwriting on the wall and it has replaced their anti-American slogans. Everywhere it is the same. I studied France from the Belgian border to the southern tip, towering Bonafaccio on the last rocky point of Corsica.

There, and everywhere, the Communists seek out the candidate least likely to fight them and support him in a popular front election or join in deeply religious processions on saints' days to hide their own policies.

In little Bonafaccio, my good friend, Mayor Tramon, told me that the 350 Communists of the town's 3,000 people dwindled to 53 by actual count in the past five years.

There are 10,000 Bonafaccio and China's Mao lays it all to Khrushchev's lack of anti-American militancy and his erstwhile "collaboration" with the West.

Somewhere back there before Paris on Summit Day, Mr. K decided to get tough with the U.S. He put on his first show then.

The second production was the Powers trial. There will be others. The French believe that China's needling has worked.

Democratic Disunity

Conservative Coalition Blocks Inflation

The biggest news of the presidential campaign happened Tuesday night in Congress. A coalition of Democrats and Republicans in the Senate applied the brakes on unnecessary spending. Even though, for political purposes, the candidates of both parties wanted other legislation the majority stuck to the fundamental principle that irrespective of party, the most important duty today is to prevent inflation and excessive government spending.

For many years now the Democrats have had majority control of Congress. But the Democratic party is split.

Approximately 20 Democrats who are against inflationary spending usually join with 31 or more Republicans to make a majority against the "spenders."

Although this has happened several times, the most significant vote of all has just come on medical-care legislation.

Because of its political importance, it was assumed that the Democrats would uphold Sen. Kennedy's position.

Despite the fact that the presidential candidate of their party was directly involved and that nearly all the Democratic senators have publicly stated their intentions to vote for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, the so-called "conservative" group adhered to its principles and brushed aside partisan politics.

THIS MEANS a good deal to the nation and especially to those voters who had begun to fear that, if a change in administration should occur in January, there would be a spending orgy.

There were two proposals offered to the Senate as substitutes for the Senate Finance Committee bill. One, sponsored by a Republican group, wanted to provide a larger program of medical care but outside the Social Security system. The cost would have been paid on a 50-50 arrangement between the states and the federal government.

This aid would have been made available on a voluntary basis to persons over 65 with incomes of less than $3,000 for an individual or $4,500 for a couple, with beneficiaries paying not less than 10 per cent of the cost.

It was estimated that the bill would have cost the federal treasury 450 million dollars a year. This was rejected.

The other proposal, sponsored by Sen. Kennedy, would have required an increase in the Social Security tax. Everyone retired under Social Security would be eligible for medical benefits at age 68, with no distinction made between those who need and those who don't need such benefits. The cost was figured at about 700 million annually, but it was estimated that the additional tax on everybody's paycheck would total around one billion dollars a year.

THE SENATE, after rejecting both substitute plans, finally passed the Finance Committee bill requiring an estimated 320 million a year from the federal government, though some argued that the cost would eventually be higher. The benefits would go only to needy persons over 65 years of age and those on old-age assistance. The states would determine who would be eligible and how big a program is needed.

There is involved in the issue not only the problem of excessive government spending but the question of self-reliance and the aid that relatives can give.

To transfer to the federal government the whole burden of medical care for the aged didn't seem to the majority in the Senate to be wise.

It appears the House will take the same view in adjusting in conference the differences between the Senate bill and a somewhat similar measure already passed by the House calling for a smaller total of federal funds.

It might have been thought that, during a political campaign, the Democrats would take a chance and pass any bill their candidate wanted and then let the blame fall on President, who, it is known, planned to veto any extreme measures.

BUT THE DEMOCRATS who joined with the Republicans in voting against the Kennedy measure had to look beyond the political game on the national front and face their own constituents who are opposed to governmental paternalism and unnecessary spending.

Does all this represent a setback for Sen. Kennedy, who took his position squarely on the Democratic platform adopted at Los Angeles? He said immediately after the Senate action this week: "This vote demonstrates that if we're going to have effective legislation in this and other fields, we're going to have to have an administration that will provide leadership and a Congress that will act."

But most of the conservative Democrats are from the South and are either assured of victory in their states this autumn or do not come up this year for re-election. So it is difficult to see how the election of a presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket can change the situation.

In fact, the conservative coalition seems here to stay and to vote against inflation whatever the outcome of the presidential contest this year.

This is the most important development thus far in the whole campaign.

Fishing for Elephant

By JIM DOYLE

Big game fishing has come to Westchester County, New York. This is remarkable for two reasons:

1. The plush suburban area is landlocked.

2. The fishing is not for fish but for elephants.

It all started some months ago when James Hayes, a New York City public relations man who lives in Westchester County and whose hobby is skindiving, became interested in a local story to the effect that the carcass of an elephant has lain for more than half a century on the bottom of Lake Waccaboc.

Near-by Somers claims to be the birthplace of the American circus and several other towns in the area were winter headquarters for tent shows around the turn of the century.

According to the story, P. T. Barnum decided one wintry day about 60 years ago to march an elephant from New York City to Somers for publicity purposes. The elephant gamely made the 50-mile hike, took one look at his bucolic, snowclad surroundings, and dropped dead.

A DEAD ELEPHANT is a big problem. In this case it was complicated by the fact that the frozen ground made it impossible to dig a jumbo grave.

Finally, the circus people festooned the elephant with old anvils, anchors, and other bits of scrap iron and towed it onto the frozen lake.

As spring came, the local residents were gripped in a fever of anticipation similar to that of sourdoughs waiting for the breakup on the Yukon. At last, one sunny day, the elephant plunged to the depths, to the thunderous accompaniment of cracking ice.

Hayes and some skindiving pals decided it might be interesting to try to find the remains of the elephant.

Preliminary research disclosed no documentation but uncovered oldsters who well remember the day of the elephant. None had been present himself.

As the news spread, other people came forward. Their grandfathers had described the event in vivid detail and they gleefully pinpointed the watery grave, some in the center of the lake, some near the north shore, some near the south.

LAST SUNDAY, seven skindivers made seven patrols on the bottom of the shallow lake, as every motorboat in the area roared over head stirring the silty bottom into opaque clouds and threatening to dismember the divers with their propellers.

They found a few scattered anchors, ax heads and miscellaneous bits of iron. They'll try again in the fall when there is less traffic on the surface and the silt compacts somewhat. The skill, if it is found, will go to the circus museum at Somers. The American Museum of Natural History spurned the rest of the skeleton, saying it had more elephant bones than it knew what to do with.

"I want to emphasize that we're not a 'kookie' bunch," said Hayes when asked about the expedition. "We aren't kids with ducktail haircuts and leather jackets. We do serious scientific work for the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute and other research organizations."

"Our group includes an advertiser, a commercial pilot, a professional photographer and several research men for a company that manufactures underwater equipment. We don't go in for crazy stunts."

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — Members of the Beacon Light Class of the Church of the Nazarene were guests of Mrs. Howard Sommerville Tuesday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I are both 26 years old. She is a very wonderful, attractive woman but she has one trait which is impossible to cope with. She is insanely jealous of any woman I think is good looking.

It can be a neighbor, waitress, friend—anyone at all. The minute I say, "Wow, she's stacked!" or make some other innocent little remark, she blows right up.

Believe me, I'm true to her 100 per cent and she knows it. In fact she never lets me out of her sight and I would have a hard time being anything else even if I wanted to which I don't.

After a blowup she stays mad for about two days and then apologizes. I can't understand why she's this way. If you have any suggestions I would like to have them.—S.W.D.

Dear S.W.D.: There's an old Hindi expression which I'll try to translate: "If you don't want to hear the cat scream don't pull its tail."

Chiseling Children

Dear Ann: If you can tell me how to get rid of chiseling step-children without losing my husband, too, you're a wonder.

We've been married less than two years. My husband's children are a pack of leeches. They are all married and have families but they seem to think their father still is responsible for them.

They borrow money and never pay it back. His sons take his clothes right out of the closet. The girls walk off with my household appliances. When I asked my step-daughter to return my steam iron she said, "It's worn out."

We've had grandchildren with us every weekend since May 13. They just dump their little ones on us and go off. We had one set of kids here for two weeks.

My husband says he can't tell them off because they're his kids. What can I do?—LOUISVILLE LUNKHEAD.

Dear L.L.: There's nothing you can do about your husband lending (or more accurately—giving) his children money but you certainly don't have to hand over your appliances or serve as a baby sitter for the pack.

I assume you're the one who must cook and clean and run after the youngsters. Tell your husband you married him to be wife and not a built-in housekeeper for his children. He is being unfair to you when he permits his family to use you so shamelessly.

A Dyeing Shame

Dear Ann: Why do so many otherwise smart women keep dyeing their hair beyond the time when it makes sense?

I don't object to a woman's tinting her crowning glory when it begins to turn mousey grey so long as the tinted color looks natural—and it often does for a few years. But why in heaven's name do some dames keep dyeing their hair coal black or brassy gold or fire-engine red, when the face and neck wrinkles are a dead give away?

Are these women blind?—MYSTIFIED.

Dear Mystified: Yes, they are blind—in a sense—and it's rather sad. They fail to see what others see; that the years have left their mark. Such a woman has a picture in her mind's eye of the way she looks and the picture is many many years old.

Two Too Together

Dear Ann: How can I keep a certain well-meaning friend out of my hair? She lives in the next block and comes to visit EVERY day at 9 a.m.

This woman has no children, gets up at the crack of dawn to do her housework and by 9 o'clock she's ready to go visiting.

I can't make a telephone call or enjoy my newspaper with a second cup of coffee. She follows me around the house, saying, "Don't let me get in your way. Just go about your business as if I weren't here."

You know, Ann Landers, this is IMPOSSIBLE.

This togetherness is driving me mad. How can I suggest a little apartness without offending the woman? She's very nice and I DO like her. — I'M BEING FOLLOWS.

Dear Followed: You have a double-barreled problem which calls for special handling. The woman is an insensitive clod and has poor judgment besides.

Nothing short of a frank blast will penetrate her hide. Try this: "I love your company but I can't do my housework properly when you're visiting. Please don't come over without first calling."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Beverly Doig Becomes Bride of Roy D. Honeywell

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Honeywell Roy D. Honeywell and his bride, the former Beverly Jean Doig, will reside at 19 Wheelock Road, Waltham, Mass., when they return from their wedding trip to Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and other points of interest in Canada.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Doig of Walton, N.Y. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Honeywell of RD 2, Salem.

The Rev. John McCreight officiated at the double ring ceremony when the couple was married Aug. 20 at the United Presbyterian Church in Walton.

A basket arrangement of white gladioli against a background of hemlock formed the altar setting which was lighted with tapers in tiered candelabra.

H. Eugene Wieand sang "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer." Gilbert Cicio was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza styled with long sleeves tapered at the wrists. The Sabrina neckline was embroidered with iridescent sequins, and appliques of lace embellished the skirt.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown fashioned of lace, braid and pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and French carnations.

Mrs. Stanton Peale of Ithaca, N.Y., was matron of honor. Her ballerina gown of hyacinth silk organza was styled with an empire bodice with petal neckline, short sleeves and bouffant flared skirt. She wore a matching meline and pearl crown with a nose veil.

Miss Carolyn White of Rochester, N.Y., and Miss Bernice Gould of Centralia, Ill., were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to Mrs. Peale's. All the attendants carried crescents of pale pink carnations.

Diane Burman of Thompson, Pa., was flower girl. She wore a white organza dress with matching headpiece and carried a basket of pink and white flowers with hyacinth streamers.

Ronnie Cicio of Kingston, N. Y., carried the rings on a lace trimmed white satin pillow.

Stanton Peale of Ithaca, N.Y., was best man. Paul Devine of Walton and George Giacomakis Jr. of New Castle, Pa., ushers.

The bride's mother wore a beige silk jacket dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Honeywell wore a blue chiffon jacket dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was decorated with pink and white garden flowers and a six-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Russell Peck, Mrs. Richard Northrup and Miss Beulah Cobb, all of Walton, and Mrs. Claude Carpenter of Norwich, N.Y., served.

Mrs. Harlan Budine, aunt of the bride, registered the 175 guests from New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois and California.

The bride is a graduate of Walton Central School and Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. She has been on the faculty at Walton Central School for the past three years and will teach in Wellesley, Mass., this fall.

Mr. Honeywell, a graduate of Salem High School, attended Bob Jones University and was graduated from Shelton College, Ringwood, N.J. He is a second year graduate student at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a white suit with navy blue trim, matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

After the rehearsal at the church Friday evening, the bridegroom's parents were hosts at a dinner for the attendants at Bryden's Catskill Resort.

Inside the palace, the grim delegates applauded politely.

Only 10 of the 20 independent African nations invited—and the Algerian rebels—were represented. Originally intended as a summit conference of African leaders to discuss strengthening African unity, the meeting was scaled down to the foreign minister level. But it developed into a third string affair as no foreign ministers showed up.

Missing, too, was Congo President Joseph Kasavubu, a political rival of Lumumba. He leads the opposition Abako party, which wants a Congo federation instead of the strong central government favored by Lumumba.

Several thousand Abako supporters sparked the rioting. Congo police and soldiers charged them when they greeted the Premier's arrival at the palace with shouts of "Death to Lumumba" and raised placards denouncing "Lumumba's Fascist government."

Nations represented at the opening conference sessions were Cameroon, Ethiopia, Ghana, Guinea, Liberia, Morocco, Sudan, Togo, Tunis and the United Arab Republic. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sent a message of greeting.

Warning Issued on Disposing of Rubbish

Mayor Dean Cranmer warns area residents again today that anyone caught disposing of garbage at the city-owned dump north west of town will be arrested.

Two fresh piles of garbage were found there yesterday by city officials, the mayor stated. The dump was recently ordered closed by the Columbiana County Health Department.

Trucks and equipment going in to the nearby city disposal plant sometimes leave the chain down at the entrance to the dump. "A large sign there clearly indicates that the dump is closed," the mayor commented. "We'll arrest anybody, anytime we find them dumping there."

Firman

Firman, 21, who has been a constant headache to law enforcement agencies ever since he broke out of the Coshocton County jail a month ago today.

Duling said Firman had been hooded the past two days in a wooded area just north of Steubenville. About two miles from that area, in a section called Sixteen Ridge is the Parker residence. Duling said Parker is believed to have known Firman.

When Spunky abducted Firman, the latter's wife phoned the patrol, setting the wheels in motion for today's search.

Spunky's pal, Robert Johnson, 22, was captured in Salem Wednesday by Patrolmen Richard Whinnery and Donald Bradley after an 80-mile-an-hour chase through the southeast section of the city.

The chase began after the patrolmen spotted Johnson's car speeding away from the Southeast Blvd. Plaza area at about 12:45 a.m. It ended at the intersection of Ohio Ave. and E. State St. where Johnson leaped from the car and surrendered after the officers threatened to shoot.

Returned to Coshocton — He has been returned to the Coshocton jail from which he was "sprung" Aug. 17 by Firman who raided the jail and forced a deputy to release Johnson.

Other county law enforcement officers participating in the search for Firman last night and today were Deputy Herman Wellman and State Highway Patrolman Richard Delagrang of the Lisbon post.

Robert Grim of East Palestine and several of his bloodhounds, often summoned to assist local authorities in searches in rural areas, also took part in the hunt.

Congress

Indications were they would eventually come up with a measure closer to the House bill than to the Senate plan, which had the backing of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

The House bill would raise minimum wages for covered workers from $1 to $1.15 an hour and extend coverage to about a million more workers. The Senate voted a $1.25 ceiling with coverage for an added four million employees.

he arrived here in Detroit and learned that the convention had adopted a resolution calling for increased defensive strength.

He said the resolution showed courage, conviction and "loyalty to all we hold dear."

He said he would like to give rosy reassurances, too, and to be able to say categorically and proudly that this country is first in the world militarily, economically, scientifically and educationally, and will be in the future.

"I cannot in all honesty make those claims," he said. "I cannot go to the country with appeals to the voters' complacency. My appeal is to their duty—and it is refreshing to know by your resolution that you who responded to that appeal in years past will not now heed the siren call of false contentment."

Kennedy said the next president, whoever he may be, should send to Congress next January specific requests to accelerate missile programs, expand and modernize conventional armed forces, protect our retaliatory capacity, and streamline the defense establishment.

The Democratic nominee said that the United States is planning to spend on the defense effort this year a smaller proportion of the total national product and total federal budget than at any time since the period before the Korean War.

Yet, he said, America's enemies "daily grow more arrogant, more threatening, and powerful."

Woody Hayes Lauds OSU Frosh Squad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We have no single great athlete, at least not yet."

"But we have the best freshman team we ever had."

"We will be a winning team, much better than last year."

"We will be back up there and may end up higher than many people expect."

Doing the talking was Woody Woodrow Hayes, who's starting his 10th year as the Ohio State's head football coach.

Last season Woody's Buckeyes handed his first losing season since he took over—three wins, five losses, and a tie.

"So what's new for 1960, Woody?" they asked at a pre-season press gathering Thursday night.

Well, for one thing, the Buckeyes will be taking advantage of those more liberal substitution rules.

Those rules probably will result in "quite a lot of messenger service this year," said Hayes. "However, we will not call too many plays (from the bench). We feel that our quarterback can be more abreast of what's going on, on the field."

Woody said he plans to use as many as three full units of offense and defense.

His "Red 1" unit—primarily an offensive group.

A squad he calls "the Bucks"—basically defensive specialists but they "will play more offense than Red 1 will play defense."

His "Red 2" unit—primarily a second offensive team.

Hayes, noted for his great ground-gaining teams—emphasis on ground—promised that Ohio State will do "a little more passing than last year. But the greatest emphasis we place on passing will still be in the classroom."

The Buckeyes, he said, will be more mobile than last year, but not as big as some of the typical OSU teams of the past.

And what about the Big Ten race and a probable champion?

Replied Woody: "Your guess is as good as mine. I think that all college football will be more wide open than it was last year."

Salem Polo Club To Host Toledo

The Salem Polo Club will return home Sunday for the first time in a month to take on Toledo in a Penn-Olio League fray at 3 p.m. at the Ellsworth Road field.

The locals will be out to snap a four-game losing streak Sunday. Although it is saddled with an unimpressive season record of three wins and nine losses, the Salem team turned in its best performance of the year in its last outing against rugged Mahoning Valley.

Salem lost 9-8 to the Youngstowners but after a ragged start, the locals outplayed their foe throughout most of the latter part of the game.

Toledo is sending 14 horses here with its six-man squad. Howie Harp, who has played with the Detroit Iovies, is one of the veterans on the club. Other members are Tom Swiger, George McKel, John Monnetta, Lamar Christy and Dan McCulloch.

Starting for Salem will be Phil Thompson, Jimmy Bahr, Joe Botak and Lloyd Brunner. Jack Arnold and Tommy Brunner will be the alternates.

Klapak Finishes Sixth

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Mike Klapak of Warren, Ohio, driving a 1958 Ford, placed sixth Thursday in the 200-mile late model stock car race at State Fair Park.

The winner was Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., also driving a 1958 Ford at an average of 87.37 m.p.h.

Wayne Nelson tossed a one-hit shutout for Canton Dolph's Tavern which blanked the Youngstown Ma-Fe Club, 9-0, in the other tourney game played last night.

The scheduled fray between the Bloomingdale Nightriders and East Liverpool AVP was not played because the Bloomingdale Club failed to show up. This is the same Bloomingdale team which played two games here in the District Tournament earlier this month and had a pair of no-hitters pitched against them.

Dave Briskin, director of the Salem Invitational Tournament, reports that Bloomingdale has been dropped from the tourney and will be replaced by a Youngstown team to be announced later.

AKRON REDS BAR slugged out 13 hits in downing Fisher Realty, 8-4 in eight innings. This game was actually much closer than the final score indicates. Akron scored two runs in the first inning but the Youngstowners took a 3-2 lead in the bottom of the sixth.

Akron came back with two in the seventh but Youngstown sent the game into extra innings with a run in the bottom of the seventh. Reds Bar then parlayed five hits, a walk and two errors into four runs in the eighth and this time, Youngstown wasn't able to come back.

A LEADOFF SINGLE in the fourth inning by Catcher McCulloch was the only hit the Youngstown Ma-Fe Club was able to get off the offerings of Nelson of Canton Dolph's Tavern.

Meanwhile, Dolph's was pounding three Ma-Fe hurlers for nine runs and 11 hits. Martino and Steves rapped out three hits apiece for the winners.

There were no home runs hit in either game last night.

Three more games are slated in the tourney tonight. The first team to be eliminated from the tournament will be known tonight. Salem A.C. and Farrell 7-Up, each with one blemish already on its record, are scheduled to angle at 9 p.m.

Hank Miller will hurl for Theron's IGA against the New Brighton Merchants in the 7 p.m. opener. Shaffer Ford, the Salem District champions, will make their first invitational tourney appearance when they take on Youngstown Avalon Gardens at 8 p.m.

Pirates Lose to Cubs; Braves Trail by 6½

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Del Crandall, a catcher who hadn't hit a home run with a man on base all season, and Glen Hobbie, a pitcher who hadn't hit a home run at all, have whittled Pittsburgh's National League lead to 6½ games once more.

After swatting 16 solo home runs, Crandall connected for a two-run shot that clinched a 4-2 victory for second-place Milwaukee at Los Angeles Thursday night.

The Chicago Cubs trimmed the Pirates 2-1 on Hobbie's two-out homer in the ninth, his first in a four-year major league career.

San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 8-5 in the only other NL game scheduled.

Crandall's home run triggered a three-run third for the Braves at Los Angeles against southpaw Sandy Koufax (6-10) while the Dodgers seemed headed for their fifth shutout defeat in 10 games.

Right-hander Joey Jay had the champs blanked on four hits until the ninth, then needed Don McMahon's strikeout relief for his fifth victory in 11 decisions.

Hobbie's home run, breaking a 1-1 tie, gave the Cubs their first victory over Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell since April 15, 1958.

Unbeaten Kresge romped to its 10th straight Class H League victory Thursday night at Kelley Field as it routed the Jaycees 20-2.

Dairy Isle won by forfeit from Merchants Vending in the other Class H game scheduled last night.

Kresge scored its 20 runs on only six hits. The Jaycees contributed five errors, 10 walks and two hit batsmen to the scoring spree.

Walt Simpson collected a double and a single to lead the Jaycees' two hits off three Kresge hurlers.

One of their blows was a triple by Denny Scullion and the other a single by Art Bowen. Both came in the fourth inning.

Boston Knocks Tribe Back to 5th Indians, Yanks Open Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Opening a double doubleheader series with first place New York today, the Cleveland Indians once again are fighting to get back into the first division.

But now assigned the role of "spoilers," the Indians can derail the Yankee pennant express with two or three victories in this series.

Vic Wertz cracked a grand slam homer in the fourth inning Thursday and started Boston on the way to a 10-7 triumph in Bean-town. There was nothing wrong with the Cleveland offense, however.

The Indians pounded out 15 hits, including three each by Harvey Kuenn and John Romano. Vic Power had a double and a two-run homer.

Don Newcombe, tagged for a home run earlier by Ted Williams, who also had three hits, served up the fat pitch to Wertz on his first offering. Errors by Mike de la Hoz and Bubba Phillips had loaded the bases.

Jim Grant, relieving Newcombe in the fourth frame after Wertz's smash had made the score 8-4

Boston, then went on to yld thr smash had made the score 8-4 Boston, then went on to yield three hits and one run in four innings. Johnny Klipstein surrendered another run on three hits in the one frame he hurled.

In the twilight game today, Jim Perry (15-6), the Cleveland ace, goes against Bob Turley (7-3). In the night encounter it will be Dick Stigman (5-8), who has pitched well against the Yanks in his rookie season, opposed by New York's Whitey Ford (9-7), also a big success against Cleveland. The two teams get together for another twin bill Saturday and Gary Bell and Jack Harshman will get the call from Manager Jimmie Dykes.

The Indians' hitting attack seems to be rolling along well. The hitters banged out 39 hits while taking two out of three in the Boston series. The pitching held up fine, except for Thursday.

One of the hits collected by Kuenn was the 1,500th in his major league career. Only eight American Leaguers are ahead of him — Williams, Wertz, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Yost, Minnie Minoso, Nellie Fox, Yogi Berra and Billy Goodman.

'Pickup Team' Seeks National Doubles Title

BROOKLINE, Mass. — Dennis Ralston and Rafael Osuna — the pickup team which stunned the tennis world by winning the Wimbledon doubles crown — are just "beginning to feel the real effect of it."

Aussies Marty Mulligan and Bob Hewitt in straight sets in the quarterfinal Thursday. The scores at the Longwood Cricket Club were 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. Meanwhile Laver and Mark disposed of England's Bobby Wilson and Mike Sangster, 7-5, 6-1, 11-9.

Though this is only the second tournament in which Ralston and Osuna have played together, they hold the No. 1 domestic seed and will be a replay of their semifinal Wimbledon clash which Ralston-Osuna won 11-9 in the fifth set.

Ralston and Osuna swept aside pitching — Glen Hobbie, Cubs, struck out 12, walked just three and shut out first place Pirates on four hits over last eight innings before nailing 2-1 victory with his first home run in the ninth.

Major League Stars

Hitting—Ted Williams and Vic Wertz, Red Sox, Williams, 3-for-4, drove in three runs, two with a homer, and Wertz hit a pinch-hit, grand slam home run in 10-7 victory over the Indians.

Chisox, Yanks Are Idle

Orioles in 2nd Place After Whipping Tigers

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles, a joke choice for the pennant in the spring, are just a game shy of the top today, ready to take over if the New York Yankees can't make it through a make-or-break weekend in the American League race.

The Orioles beat Detroit 9-3 Thursday night and took sole possession of second place. Chuck Estrada pitched a five-hitter, and Gus Triandos hit his second grand-slam home run of the week.

New York and the defending champion Chicago White Sox, who fell out of a second-place tie, were idle.

Washington took over fourth place, whipping Kansas City 9-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Chuck Stobbs and Ray Moore. After Boston dropped Cleveland to fifth by slugging the Indians 10-7.

Triandos, troubled by injury most of the season, cracked a 3-3 tie and triggered a six-run eighth-inning for the Orioles against right-hander Frank Lary (11-13). It was the fifth slam of Triandos' career.

The Senators, nursing a 1-0 lead, broke loose for eight runs in the seventh against the A's. Five walks, a hit batter and five single did it.

Nixon Campaign Moves Southward, Builds Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon launches a second campaign invasion of the South today, with an expressed view that "we have a chance in some Southern states."

On the eve of a one-day sweep to talk in Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga., Nixon said, "At least we are going to give the people down there a choice, something they sometimes have not had in previous times."

This was one of the campaign observations the Republican presidential candidate made during a sometimes serious, usually breezy appearance Thursday night on Jack Paar's show on NBC-TV.

Nixon took in stride a question based on President Eisenhower's remark that while Nixon is a principal adviser "no one can make a decision except me."

Some took this as a blow at Nixon's major contention that his executive participation in the top levels of the Eisenhower administration entitles him to promotion to the presidency.

Nixon said that "the President stated the case exactly and correctly" for his administration — and, properly, any administration.

But Nixon added he has had the "very great privilege" of being asked for his opinion and "participating in the discussions which lead to a decision by the President."

His experience, he said, included sitting "in the councils of the administration, in the Cabinet and the Security Council."

Don't let your hockey heroes or basketball heroes wear the same dirty gym socks, pants, shorts, sweat shirts week after week. Encourage your children to bring home their school gym clothes regularly for laundering. Soap or detergent suds and hot water will flush away both soil and perspiration.

PURE EDUCATION
It is interesting to note how teachers of various subjects are adapting recording and playback equipment to their classes. Some teachers of literature have found that playing the recordings of well known poets or authors, reading from their own works serves to stimulate the student's interest.

Labor Department Calculates Cost Of Living for 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department calculated today it costs about $6,000 a year to maintain a four-person city worker's family on a modest but adequate living level.

An actual survey of 20 cities showed costs ranging from $5,370 in Houston, Tex., to $6,567 in Chicago.

The exhaustive survey by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics also estimated the income of such a family conservatively is $7,000 to $7,500. It said income typically outstrips budget needs by 15 to 20 per cent.

The budget is based on a family consisting of an employed husband, aged 38, a wife not employed outside the home, a daughter aged 8, and a son aged 13, all living in a rented dwelling in a large city or its suburbs.

The survey was made in 20 cities. The budget cost for such a family was calculated for other cities as follows: Atlanta $5,642, Baltimore $5,718, Boston $6,317, Cincinnati $6,100, Cleveland $6,199, Detroit $6,072, Kansas City $5,964, Los Angeles $6,285, Minneapolis $6,181, New York $5,597, Philadelphia $5,898, Pittsburgh $6,199, Portland, Ore., $6,222, St. Louis $6,266, San Francisco $6,304, Scranton $5,693, Seattle $6,562, and Washington, D.C., $6,147.

To make the survey, the bureau determined the needs of such families in all the cities, balancing them with scientific studies of nutritional needs and other family requirements. It compiled them into a typical budget for such a family. Then it went out and priced the items in all the cities.

Damascus
Columbiana County Cultivators Advisory Council joined the Township Liner's Advisory Council and the Knox Township Advisory Council in a meeting at Greeley Grange Hall Friday.

Don Jackson, auxiliary patrolman, assisted by Robert Hovater of Lisbon, presented the movie, "Signal 30."

Forty one of West Branch school at Damascus were examined by Dr. Charles Scofield recently with Miss Elva Boyer, county nurse, and Mrs. Hilda Spack assisting.

A hamburg fry was held when E double T Club met in Silver Park Friday.

The group played miniature golf. Mrs. William Carner will entertain Sept. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downs of Hampton, Va., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Talbot.

KEEP SOLES CLEAR
Manufacturers do their best to prevent falls by putting grip soles on overshoes and rubbers. But these soles must be kept clean to do a good job of gripping. Use a stiff brush dipped into warm soap suds to scrub the soles free of soil in a jiffy.

Doctor Discusses Football Dangers

"My son," writes a troubled mother, "enters college this fall on a partial athletic scholarship. He was the 'star' of his high school football team. Over the course of the three years that he played on the first team, he never really suffered a serious injury although many times he was a mass of bruises and appeared to be sore or in pain though he was careful never to let on that he had any discomfort. I have tried to persuade him to give up football even if it means the loss of his scholarship. He refuses to listen to me and my husband has taken his side. "They say I'm foolish to be so worrisome and they accuse me of trying to make a 'sissy' of him. Am I silly to be so nervous? Is college football as safe as my husband says it is?"

NOT BEING as wise as Solomon, dear mother, I'll not presume to hand down a decision in this domestic difference of opinion. But I am in a position to supply you with certain facts that may strengthen your case.

A report issued by the American Football Coaches Association states that 108 deaths occurred in the United States over a five-year period that ended in 1949. Of these fatalities, 81 were due to activities directly associated with the game such as tackling and blocking. The remaining 27 deaths were due to indirect causes such as heat stroke and heart failure.

Of the 81 deaths directly associated with play, high school players accounted for 51 and college players but 30. To my knowledge, there have been no fatalities in professional football.

INTERPRETING these figures, those who argue for the relative safety of football will hold that the greater number of high school fatalities indicates that the responsibility rests not with the game itself but with the inferior training or conditioning and lesser skills of younger players.

But those who hold that even a single death is too high a price to pay for indulgence in competitive sport will argue that the greater number of fatalities in high school play is best explained by the fact that there are many more high school than college and professional football players.

UNFORTUNATELY there is more to the hazards of football than these tragic fatalities. I do not know how many players suffer nonfatal injuries of significant consequence.

But I do know that many of my own friends, acquaintances and patients continue to complain in later life of "trick knees," recurrent shoulder dislocations and "burn backs" that they attribute to youthful football injuries.

The perils of football are especially pointed up when compared with the great safety of baseball. For example, there are more than two million Little Leaguers,

But I do know that many of my own friends, acquaintances and patients continue to complain in later life of "trick knees," recurrent shoulder dislocations and "burn backs" that they attribute to youthful football injuries.

The perils of football are especially pointed up when compared with the great safety of baseball. For example, there are more than two million Little Leaguers, many thousand high school, college and local ball players, and several hundred professionals and semi-pros.

Yet in the past five years, there have been few reported fatalities and these few were the result of freak accidents such as being struck in the head by a batted ball during practice when several balls were in motion or striking the head against home plate while attempting to slide for a score.

INDEED, THERE has been no fatal accident in the big leagues since 1920 when a batter was hit in the head by a pitched ball.

Finally, contact sports of all sorts, including football, produce hidden injuries to vital organs that are for the most part undetected. For example, an appreciable percent of Harvard football players had both albumen and sugar in their urine specimens immediately after the Yale game.

And a recent study of the specimens of 900 boxers, 140 wrestlers, 68 basketball players and 30 hockey players revealed the presence of blood cells in approximately two of every three. (A. H. Kleiman, Journal of Urology, April 1950).

I DON'T KNOW whether all this information will serve to lessen or magnify the domestic difference of opinion that prevails in the home of my correspondent. But, for what it's worth, here it is.

This is an Underphoned home

The solution to any underphoned home is extension phones. They are the handiest time and step savers available. And, an extension costs as little as $.95 a month, plus tax.

There's no reason for any home to be underphoned when extension phones are so big in value and so reasonably priced.

Order the extensions you need soon. Call Ohio Bell or ask the man on the telephone truck.
